YIDDISHE FITNESS is the golden pages of health and longevity for Jewish communities around the world. Inside this book we will discuss everything from NUTRITION, MOVEMENT, SLEEP, SHABBES, YOM TOV, WEIGHT LOSS, and SO MUCH MORE!

Achieving optimal health won't always be easy, but with this book at hand it will be as simple as it gets. YOU have what it takes to make the transformation of your life and enter the world of the healthy, fit and happy.

WELCOME TO YOUR JOURNEY OF YIDDISHE FITNESS!

For anyone looking to create a healthier lifestyle, Gabriel breaks everything down into clear step-by-step tips and his book is packed with practical tools and insights.

Beatie Deutsch
Israel Champion Marathon Runner

"Fitness" is an important part of Judaism. Rambam documents the rules of healthful living in Judaism comprehensively. Gabriel Fingeret has produced an introduction to this field, showing how important this part of Judaism is. I fully endorse engaging this field with focus and attention.

Rabbi Dr. Ahuva Tatz

Gabriel grew up in an observant Jewish household and couples his degrees as a Physiotherapist, Fitness Instructor, Nutritionist, and Krav Maga instructor to bring you his acquired knowledge and experience in what helps him combine the best of both worlds: Yiddisheit and Fitness!

Warning: Myth Alert!

Babies are simple. Feed them. Change them. That's about it until they're older.

Let's Bust:

Bonding Myth Number 3

Whilst it's true that caring for a baby's physical needs is essential, meeting their psychological needs is every bit as important.

From the very beginning, babies have emotional and psychological lives. The way they are interacted with by key adults helps brain development and the formation of their personality. Talking to your baby, smiling, mirroring, making eye-contact, mimicking, soothing, singing, caressing, holding, playing and much more... all these set a template for the way they learn to attach to, and interact with, others in their lives ahead.

Motherhood can be a joy, so Menucha's support, advice, and therapy like Parent-Infant Psychotherapy (PIP) are all designed to help parents form a healthy attachment with their baby.

www.menucha.info

Under the guidance of Rabbi S F Zimmerman and endorsed by local Rabbonim.

Menucha is here to provide understanding, non-judgmental advice, specialised therapy services, and referrals.

Everybody Stumbles Sometimes... With Our FREE Mental Health Training You Can Help Prevent A Fall

Covid, war in Ukraine, economic pressures, employment insecurity...we know that mental health challenges for the Jewish community have never been greater. Today, knowing how to care for our own and others' wellbeing is an absolute priority.

Project Lily's FREE online training aims to equip you with vital skills to identify and respond to mental health issues before they escalate.

Topics include: Mental health basics / Stress / Anxiety / Depression / Self-care

Course Dates: 21st or 23rd March • 4th or 27th April • 9th or 25th May

Courses are delivered over Zoom by our Clinical Director, Jonathan Dove (B.Sc. M.A. MBACP Reg; Member EMDR UK), with a choice of training sessions (90 minutes or 3 hours).
