ALL ABOUT

HIDURIT

A Three-Fold Shabbat Blessing

How much hassle and preparation do you devote to welcoming the Shabbat Queen? How much energy do you invest in her honor? Cooking, baking, cleaning and brightening the house.

Recent developments in much-needed Shabbat utensils, have seen a trio of revolutionary patents, which will transform the Shabbat atmosphere and allow you to enjoy it with its due honour, safety and tranquility.

You are invited to familiarize yourself with three innovative products that have received the approval of the "Tzomet" Institute, which we are sure will change your Shabbat from beginning to end...

Hot Water Urns

A hot water container at home is an opportunity for disaster. Every Shabbat, children are sadly harmed from boiling water either in the kettle or from water that spills out. We have developed an exclusive kettle, produced with innovative technology that ensures us all, effective use and significant mental calm.

The kettle includes six safety and protection mechanisms that provide an absolute solution to all the problems that may arise and are painfully familiar to us.

The Shabbat kettles frequently found on the market are made of a thin stainless-steel layer and any touching of them may end in a stinging burn.

In this model, there is a unique locking faucet, ensuring that a child cannot press the water at all. In addition, the dual locking mechanism ensures that the lid does not open even if it falls from the hash. Apart from all the benefits, the heater ensures easy and friendly use. It automatically switches from boiling mode to Shabbat mode, without hand contact.

In the urn is a Mehadrin hard plastic window, which protects the button from children and reminds us of the Sabbath. The product is innovatively designed, manufactured from 95% stainless steel and does not require immersing in a Mikva (TEVILAT KELIM) prior to usage.

Hot Plates

The second piece of good news is an innovative, safe electrical heating plate made of non-absorbent glass. The hot plate allows use of both meat and milk separately

, after cleaning the surface between each use. Besides, according to the ruling of the Shulchan Aruch (and sefardi custom) it can also be used on Passover.

Another advantage offered by the hotplate is its ease of cleaning. Every Saturday night, after using other hot plates, they must be soaped with strong cleansers, which are absorbed into it and emitted in the following use. This new hotplate needs only a light clean, and everything is as shiny as new.

There are other advantages of this innovation. It's beautiful and elegant, and integrated with LED front lighting, and very economical for constant power consumption.

Shabbat Covers

Now that we've met the safe water and the hot plate, care must be taken to use a respectable cover that stands on top of the pots and respects the Sabbath. Our third piece of equipment that will enhance your Shabbat is spectacularly designed cover, the top of which is leather-like, beautiful and easy to clean.

Behind each development maximum thought and strategy is used and thousands of customers from all sectors have already discovered that it is possible to enjoy a special Saturday, full of pleasure and tranquility, and free of unnecessary risks and stress.

INNOVATION, BEAUTY & SAFETY COMBINED

HAPPY HANUKKAH!

Chanukah is the highlight in any Jewish child's calendar. Like our ancestors, many Shuvu families were lucky to escape with their lives, but their beloved Hanukkiah's have been seized, sold or melted down.

How can Yiddishkeit survive in such circumstances?

This is why we are trying to ensure that every child's family has a Hanukkiah. It's something children can be involved in creating and lighting with their families. At Shuvu we're distributing over 4,000 kits to our students where they can make their own Hanukkiah's.

These kits cost £2.99 each. If you'd like to donate, our bank details are:

Account Number: 61385070

Sortcode: 40-07-01

You can also donate through our website (www.shuvu.org.uk) or Achisomoch.

SPEECH SAFETY

By: Kayla C.

I don't believe it!

"Thank you, girls, for a beautiful choir. We know you practiced for many hours after school and it really enhanced our 'Unite and Light day' this Chanukah," Mrs Pearlman said, as the choir girls filed back to their seats to the sound of a sea of applause.

Mrs Pearlman smiled warmly at her students and waited for the hall to quieten down before taking the microphone again. "And now, I would like to introduce you to our surprise speaker, a very chashuve guest. I know you're all waiting eagerly to find out who it will be. There's a reason we didn't announce it on the program; we weren't sure if she would be able to make it, and we didn't want to disappoint you. Boruch Hashem, she was able to come and we are so privileged to host her. Girls, please stand up and welcome Rebbetzin Zahava Weinstein!"

A gasp rippled through the hall and a loud buzz filled the room. Rebbetzin Weinstein was a world-famous speaker from the United States of America who inspired audiences across the globe and brought thousands of people closer to Hashem. She was wise, witty and wonderful. The girls couldn't believe that they were about to meet her in person!

As soon as they heard the approaching footsteps, the girls fell completely silent.

From the first sentence, Rebbetzin Weinstein had the students spellbound, weaving together stories of mussar that left them thinking, and delivering punchlines that had them crying from laughter.

Yet, even as the girls sat glued to their seats, in Row 5 there was a stir. Fraidy was feeling fidgety. She was sure she had once heard something about Rebbetzin Weinstein, something that wasn't very complimentary. What was it again? Was she the one who was caught smuggling something at the airport? No, that couldn't be. Was it that story at the hotel, when someone saw her asking for a chocolate at the non-kosher gift shop? Yes, that must have been it! She plucked the pen from Esty's hand, her face questioning. Can I borrow it? she motioned. Though she had been furiously scribbling notes, Esty graciously agreed.

'Heard crazy story about her,' Fraidy wrote. 'S1 saw her eating non-Kosher choc...'

Esty's eyebrows shot up. "Rubbish!" she muttered.

Fraidy nodded her head vigorously, insisting the story was true. "I'm telling you!" she whispered loudly.

"It's not possible! You can't say such a thing about her!" Esty sputtered angrily.

Mrs Pearlman glared in their direction.

Surreptitiously, Fraidy nudged Raizy, sitting next to her on the other side. Raizy looked a little annoyed at the interruption but looked down at Fraidy's note anyway. Her eyes widened. "How can you say that?!" she whispered, shocked. "She's a real Tzaddekes."

The hour passed quickly and the girls could hardly believe when it was over and Rebbetzin Weinstein wrapped up her speech with the obligatory, 'May we be zoiche to greet Moshiach Tzidkeinu, bimheira b'yomeinu, Amen.'

"Amen," Fraidy responded along with the rest of the school, though the Loshon Hara she had just shared may have delayed the Geulah that bit more. For, although neither Esty nor Raizy lost any respect for Rebbetzin Weinstein, because it belittled the Rebbetzin it was still Loshon Hara in every sense of the word.
