WHY DOES THE ABUSE STILL HURT?

BARKAN
VINETARDS
The most awarded Israeli winery in international wine competitions

— THE —
GOLD EDITION

THE NEW AND EXCITING MEMBER OF THE RESERVE SERIES!

The Barkan Reserve Gold Edition offers a special edition of the recognized Reserve Series. This wine is made of Cabernet Sauvignon grapes, grown in the Upper Galilee, long considered one of the best grape growing areas in Israel.

During the maturation process of the wine, our winemakers found such unique character and together they decided to produce "The Reserve Gold Edition" as a hallmark for its exceptional quality.

After fermentation, this wine was aged carefully in oak barrels, selected by our winemakers.

This wine shows characteristics of red and black plums, sweet spices, with balanced tannins and a long, fruity finish.

Enjoy this wine with various meat dishes, strong cheeses or pasta Bolognese.

* Won the most Gold & Double Gold medals in International Wine Competitions 2008-2016

The London Jewish Family Centre would like to thank those who attended our Melave Malka last week and gave so generously. It was a lovely evening that gave an insight into the work of the Centre and raised much needed funds.

Sandy would particularly like to thank Ilana Greenblatt, Head of Organisation and Fundraising, who planned, arranged and executed the whole evening so magnificently.

If you would like to know more about the work of the Centre, please contact Ilana on ilana@ljfc.com

Is your child in therapy for anxiety or social related disorders?

Did you know they don't have to be?

For over 10 years I have worked with parents in my therapy practice, usually without the child's involvement, to resolve such symptoms with proven and permanent results.

Call or text to schedule a free 20-minute phone consultation and finally end the frustration of no progress.

DARK TAPESTRY

by Ruthie Pearlman

CHAPTER TWENTY-FIVE

Pinny Bloch, one of the last on the list, said, "Have you contacted Avi Pincus in Jerusalem?" "No, I forgot about him," Colin admitted shamefacedly. "Got a number for him?"

Pinny gave him a number. Colin was just about to dial Israel when the desk clerk, Sergeant Potter, put his head around the door.

"Sir, there's been an incident at that playhouse you investigated. Palmer, who's been watching it, has stopped a man. Maybe you'd better come and see."

"Cleverdogs said the forensics didn't match. The Fox had never been in the playhouse," Colin mused.

"So the person who abducted Josh had never been in the playhouse," Potter said. "But who's to say that the person who abducted Josh and the Fox are the same person?"

Colin looked at him strangely. "Potter, the man has been signing the e-mails 'Internet Fox.'"

"Maybe he has an accomplice."

"Maybe, if Cindy Wallis is a man who wears size nine shoes, yes."

"Might be worth checking out, though."

Colin sighed. "I'll pop along quickly after I make this phone call to Israel."

Avi Pincus was out, so Colin left a message with his wife to call him back, then drove quickly to the playhouse site. He found Palmer sitting in the squad car with a dirty-looking man in filthy clothes who smelled most unsavory. He got in and sat next to him, trying to ignore the stench. It wasn't easy.

"This is Greg Phelps," Palmer said.

"Ain't done nuffing wrong," Phelps mumbled.

"Just used the bouse for somewhere dry to sit and 'ave me a cuppa. Didn't know there was a law against it."

"There isn't, mate," Colin reassured him, slipping into the vernacular of this vagrant. "We just need to know 'o's been using the playhouse, that's all." Greg Phelps looked at Colin through rheumy eyes in a grimy face. "Me."

"Where do you sleep at night?" Palmer asked him.

"Sometimes I sleeps in the playhouse. Sometimes I doss down in the park on a bench. The playhouse is best coz the floor is wood and it's warm."

Colin looked at Greg's feet. A pair of grubby running shoes resided there. "Don't get rid of these trainers, mate," he told Phelps. "We might need forensics to run 'em over."

"I don't 'ave no other shoes," Phelps told him. "These are all I 'ave."

Colin thought for a moment. He put his hand into his pocket and pulled out a twenty-pound note.

"Palmer," he said, "run this gentleman over to the discount shoe shop and buy him some new trainers. Maybe get them to throw in a pair or two of socks if you smile real pretty at them."

"New shoes. Thanks, guv," Phelps said reaching down to untie his laces. "I'll just get these orf so I can give them to yer."

Colin got out of the car hastily. "I'll wait out here if you don't mind. Palmer, got a large evidence bag handy? And give it to me sealed, will you please?"

Greg Phelps wanted to shake Colin's hand and thank him for the shoes, but Colin declined and waved the grimy proffered hand away.

"Oh, it's all right. Be off with you. Palmer, give him a couple of quid to get a bed in a hostel tonight, will you?"

He drove back to the station, his precious, albeit ripe, evidence bag on the seat next to him, thinking.

Cleverdogs.

He needed Leora Jakober to come back and analyze these trainers. Where was she? Had she left a contact number? She must have. He would check with Peter.

Back at the station, he reported to Peter about Greg Phelps, and Peter laughed aloud at the story of the trainers.

"We do need Ms. Jakober to analyze them," he agreed. "I have a contact number for her. I'll give her a buzz."

"Has Avi Pincus phoned back yet?" Colin asked, comfortable with using the shortened forename instead of the formal Abraham he was using before he confessed to being Jewish.

"Nope, not yet. And I had at least four phone calls from associates of Baruch Weiss who said they didn't know who George Foley was. Why they bothered phoning in the first place, I'll never know. Waste of police time, that is."

"Well, it looks like we have conclusive proof that the user of the playhouse is a vagrant. We'll need to analyze the trainers, but it certainly looks final."

The phone rang on Colin's desk. The switchboard WPC said, "It's Ms. Jakober for you, sir."

"Wow, talk about telepathy," Peter winked at him and sat on the edge of Colin's desk to listen.

Colin glared at him and took the call. Her cheerful American accent lifted his spirits.

"Hi, there, guys. How's it going? I'm having a wonderful time here in downtown London seeing all the sights. It's certainly different from Golders Green."

"Um, yes, I suppose it is," Colin said.

"Any news on the Hardman case? I thought I oughta touch base and see how things are."

Colin filled her in on all the latest news, talking about Shake without mentioning that he was Jewish, just that he was someone he had known in his youth. Leora was quiet until he had finished, not interrupting or offering any comments. He almost thought she had gone offline, until she spoke again.

"I don't know who George Foley is, but I am really pleased you have made progress. I just don't see what his motive is in taking Josh, though."

"No, that's the mystery part. He seems to be a part of my past, not the Hardmans'. Unless, as I am surmising, he has no idea that he ever knew me, and our connection is a pure fluke and the Hardmans were his target. But for what reason?"

"Beats me," Leora said. "Has Don Hardman heard of George Foley?"

"No, but I am sure the Fox has changed his name again and again. The estate agent had the name Bill Valence listed at the address Avi Pincus found. But Bill Venice was the name Pincus picked up at that address from the offices of SmallNet. The name the Fox was using to send those e-mails."

"Well, what about Bill Venice?"

"I always wondered why he used that name, but now of course it's obvious. Bill equals William or Will, as he has used before, and Venice from The Merchant of Venice, the Shakespeare play first quoted in the e-mails sent to the Hardmans. It's definitely Shake."

"Seems quite a character, your Shake," Leora commented. What she did not, however, comment on, although she wondered about it, was his use of "Avi" rather than "Abraham" as he had used in the past. She filed it away in a corner of her mind to be dealt with later. Leora Jakober seldom missed a trick. It was the key to her success.

"Well, anyway, the estate agent, whatsisname, Mike Younger, said he had given the name Bill Valence. Not so different from Venice. Same initials, same overall look, but just different enough to confuse."

"I don't know how he will ever be found, in that case," Leora said.

METROPOLITAN POLICE

Inspector Jason Moseley

Colindale Police Station,
Grahame Park Way
Hendon
NW95TW

Dear Residents,

There is a time-honoured tradition within the community to collect for charity over the Purim period. This includes children and teenagers collecting in the roads. I must once again advise that this is dangerous and Police cannot endorse such activity.

For a number of years prior to Purim, I have sent a reminder advising the community of the dangers & risks in collecting for charity in the street from passing motorists due to safety concerns.

This year I would like to once more wish all a happy and safe Purim. My message remains the same that collecting in the street, especially going into the busy Golders Green Road and stopping traffic carries considerable risk.

This message is being sent for community safety reasons, please ensure all children are supervised and everyone is aware of the risks involved. I would urge parents and carers to consider the risks ahead of this year's festival and the safety of their children and teenagers.

Wishing you all a happy and safe Purim

Kindest regards

Jason Moseley – Community Inspector. 2nd March 2020

TOV V'CHESED PREPARES FOR $250,000 PURIM INITIATIVE THAT WILL BRING JOY TO ORPHANED HOUSEHOLDS AND STRUGGLING FAMILIES

JERUSALEM, ISRAEL - WITH THE PURIM SPIRIT IN THE AIR AND THE MONTH OF SIMCHA UPON US, TOV V'CHESED OFFICES ARE SEEING A WHIRLWIND OF ACTIVITY THESE DAYS AS STAFF AND VOLUNTEERS READY FOR ANOTHER PURIM TO REMEMBER.

AS THE PREMIER CHESED ORGANIZATION IN ISRAEL, TOV V'CHESED IS NO STRANGER TO MATANOS L'EYONIM AND MISHLOACH MANOS. AFTER ALL, THIS IS A MITZVAH THAT THEY ARE INVOLVED IN 365 DAYS A YEAR. ON PURIM HOWEVER, WHEN ALL OF KLAL YISROEL JOINS IN THESE TREMENDOUS MITZVOHS, THE ORGANIZATION TAKES IT UP A NOTCH BY ARRANGING FOR VARIOUS INITIATIVES THAT BRING JOY TO THE SADDENED HOMES OF WIDOWS AND ORPHANS.

IN ADDITION TO THE MITZVAH OF SPREADING SIMCHA ON PURIM, TOV V'CHESED HAS ANOTHER REASON FOR THESE MASSIVE UNDERTAKINGS. WHILE MOST FAMILIES ASSOCIATE PURIM WITH FUN, LAUGHTER AND HAPPINESS, THE FAMILIES WHO LOST A PARENT OR LIVE IN EXTREME POVERTY, SUFFER EVEN MORE WHEN THEIR VOID IS MAGNIFIED AS EVERYONE AROUND THEM IS HAVING THE TIME OF THEIR LIVES.

OVER THE YEARS, TOV V'CHESED HAS HEARD MANY STORIES OF FAMILIES WHO KEPT THEIR WINDOWS AND DOORS SHUT ON PURIM BECAUSE THEY WERE EMBARRASSED THAT THERE WAS NO FOOD ON THE TABLE OR CHILDREN WHO WERE ASHAMED TO GO OUT BECAUSE THEY DIDN'T HAVE THE ABILITY TO EXCHANGE MISHLOACH MANOS WITH FRIENDS. ON THE MOST JOYFUL DAY OF THE YEAR, THESE STRUGGLING FAMILIES WERE IN A PIT OF DESPAIR AND SADNESS.

THAT IS WHY TOV V'CHESED, UNDER THE LEADERSHIP OF R' YAAKOV ELIEZER SHISHA, RUNS AN ANNUAL PURIM DRIVE THAT SPREADS THE CHEER AND SIMCHA OF THIS AUSPICIOUS TIME. THIS YEAR, THE ORGANIZATION PLANS TO ADD TO ITS ALREADY EXTENSIVE LIST OF SERVICES:
MATANOS L'EYONIM: THE HEARTBEAT OF THE CAMPAIGN, THIS

DISTRIBUTION PROVIDES MEANINGFUL SUPPORT TO DESTITUTE FAMILIES. MANY JEWS AROUND THE WORLD SEND MATANOS L'EYONIM DONATIONS TO TOV V'CHESED AND THE FUNDS ARE DISTRIBUTED ON THE DAY OF PURIM, AS THE HALACHA REQUIRES. THIS YEAR, TOV V'CHESED PLANS TO RAISE AND HAND OUT NEARLY $150,000 FOR ORPHANED AND STRUGGLING HOMES!

SEUDAS PURIM: FOR FAMILIES WHO CAN'T PUT FOOD ON THE TABLE OR ARE MISSING A FATHER, TOV V'CHESED DELIVERS A LARGE, NOURISHING MEAL SO THAT THEY TOO CAN EXPERIENCE A TRUE PURIM SEUDAH. THIS YEAR, AROUND 350 FAMILIES WILL RECEIVE FISH, MEAT, WINE AND MORE, AND HAVE THE ABILITY TO CELEBRATE PURIM IN STYLE.

MISHLOACH MANOS: EVERY MISHLOACH MANOS THAT SOMEONE RECEIVES HAS TWO FACETS THAT ARE APPRECIATED; THE CONTENT OF THE GIFT AND THE THOUGHTFULNESS OF THE SENDER. TOV V'CHESED VOLUNTEERS PREPARE THOUSANDS OF MISHLOACH MANOS SO THAT WIDOWS AND ORPHANS IN ISRAEL CAN RECEIVE A MEANINGFUL PACKAGE TO ENJOY AND KNOW THAT THEY MATTER TO ACHEINU BNEI YISROEL AROUND THE WORLD.

SIMCHAS PURIM: ONE OF THE JOYS OF PURIM IS WATCHING BOYS AND BUCHERIM COME TO A HOME WHERE THEY DANCE AND SING AS THEY RAISE MONEY FOR TZEDAKAH. FOR THESE FAMILIES THAT AREN'T A DESTINATION FOR CHARITY OR FUN, TOV V'CHESED ARRANGES FOR GROUPS OF ENERGETIC BUCHERIM WHO TRAVEL AROUND AND WITH THEIR LIVELY SPIRIT, BRING HAPPINESS AND SMILES INTO THESE HOMES.

EVEN THOUGH TOV V'CHESED HAS A GROWING ANNUAL BUDGET, THE ORGANIZATION KNOWS THAT THESE PURIM SERVICES ARE VITAL TO THE RECIPIENTS AND NEED TO BE STRENGTHENED AND IMPROVED. IN THESE DAYS, TOV V'CHESED IS TURNING TO JEWS AROUND THE WORLD WITH A PLEA TO HELP IN THIS GREAT CAUSE AND ASSIST THEM IN BRINGING SIMCHA TO THOSE WHO NEED IT MOST.

PURIM 2020

מודעה ואזהרה

With Purim only a few days away we would like to remind everyone of a few important points that will ensure that you, your families and the whole קהילה remain safe during this time, whilst still being able to enjoy the "פורים spirit"

Drink Drive

Remember there is no minimum amount one can drink without being affected by alcohol - each person reacts differently to alcohol. Although there is a מצוה of לא תעמוד על דם רעך this must not be in contravention of נשמרתם מאד לנפשותיכם and Therefore don't drink and drive!

Children

- Children will be pre-occupied with their costumes and the מצות היום, therefore they may not be conscious of the סכנה the street brings.
- Parents should emphasise to their children about the dangers of the road, and of maintaining road safety awareness at all times.
- Parents should also be aware of the סכנה, and resulting consequences of under age drinking.
- It is imperative to know the whereabouts of your children at all times.
- If your children are shpieling, please ensure they are accompanied by a sensible (sober) adult, especially if they are carrying sums of money.
- If your child's costume includes an imitation firearm / weapon, please ensure this does not look realistic as armed police will be patrolling the area.

Deter Burglary

Do not leave משלוח מנות outside the front door of a house if the occupants are not in. Doing so leaves a clear message to potential criminals that no one is home.

Barnet Police are putting on extra reassurance patrols throughout Purim for the safety and security of the community. Police will not take Purim into consideration and will strictly enforce the law.

Workshop to acquire tools to help develop your child's social skills

WHY DOES MY CHILD JUST NOT SEEM TO 'GET IT' WHEN IT COMES TO SOCIALISING?

Does your child find social interactions hard

Do they always seem to say the wrong thing at the wrong time

Do people find their behaviours a bit off and don't know how to respond

Presented by: Dr Sarah Kramer

SESSION 1

SOCIAL BEHAVIOUR MAPPING

A way for children and adults to understand other people's interactions

Monday 16th March

SESSION 2

FRIEND FILES

A way of understanding and impacting our relationships and what people think of us

Thursday 26th March

Venue: 21 Western Ave, London NW11 9HE

Time: 8:00 – 9:30pm

These will be invaluable sessions for both parents and teachers alike with practical ideas that can be implemented by all with opportunities to ask questions.

Sarah Kramer qualified as a speech and language therapist at University College London in 1991, achieving a first class honours degree. She has since been awarded related qualifications including an MSc with a distinction and a PhD, also benefiting from lots of additional courses such as a year long course at the Institute of Group Analysis and workshops by Michelle Garcia Winner on social communication. Clinically, she works for Legadel, whilst she continues to work as a Clinical Lead in the NHS, also working as a contractor for a number of NHS Trusts. She has a particular interest in supporting children to communicate in the most effective way they can – with adults and their peers, by supporting the people who know the child best, whether parents or staff.

"Here" to Grow

It started with a few wisps of hair. They were on her pillow and in her comb. Chani had no idea why she was finding hair all over the place.

Soon, the strands turned into bunches. Each time Chani combed her hair, she was startled anew at the sheer amount of hair that was loosening itself from her scalp.

Her mother noticed it, too. She went to the store and picked up some natural-based hair loss shampoo for her ten-year-old. It didn't help.

Chani was growing agitated. "Mommy! I'm scared!" she cried one day, "My hair is getting thinner and thinner!"

Mrs. Schwartz decided it was time to check it out, and scheduled an appointment at the doctor.

"There are many reasons why hair loss can happen," the doctor said as he printed out some test referrals. "Take these and return to me once you have the results."

In the few weeks that it took for all the tests to be completed, Chani watched tearfully as her hair continued to vanish. Mrs. Schwartz hoped her daughter's self-esteem wouldn't disappear along with it. Their anxiety mounted.

The doctor looked over the test results and proclaimed that Chani was perfectly healthy.

"Why, then, is she experiencing such extreme hair loss?" Mrs. Schwartz questioned. The doctor didn't have any answers, but referred them to a specialist.

Back at home, Chani approached her father and asked, "Can I fill out a L'taher form?"

Mr. Schwartz was taken aback. Chani was so young! Kids her age weren't signing up to the technology-free program but Chani wanted the zechus of sending in her form with a request for a brachah from the Skvere Rebbe.

"Don't worry!" her father replied. "I was already mazkir your situation by the Rebbe."

Chani retreated, somewhat pacified.

On Erev Shev'i shel Pesach, Mrs. Schwartz heard hysterical screams from Chani's room. Chani was holding a thick cluster of hair in her hands. "I can't anymore!" she cried. "Soon I'll have more hair in my hands than on my head!"

Chani

Mrs. Schwartz's heart went out to her young daughter.

"Mommy," Chani said, lowering her tone. "I want to sign up for L'taher. And I want the Rebbe to give me a brachah that my hair should stop falling out!"

Emotions rolling inside, Mrs. Schwartz tried to convince her husband that they must act.

Mr. Schwartz contacted the gabbal and explained that despite his daughter's young age, she had opportunities to triumphed over technological challenges, making sure never to watch videos or clips when her friends gathered round to do so. "Would she be entitled to have her signed form brought in to the Rebbe?"

The gabbal agreed.

Delighted, Chani exclaimed, "Now I know that I will be helped!"

Two weeks after Pesach, they went for their long-awaited appointment at the specialist. The doctor said he would prescribe medication to stop the problem. But first he asked, "When was the last time you noticed hair falling?"

Chani thought and then realization dawned. Since Shev'i shel Pesach, she hadn't found strands of hair on her comb or pillow!

Brexit and Shidduchim

By Michael Posen

Now that Brexit has actually happened, one of its major implications for members of our Kehillah is the vast negative impact it will have on the immigration status of many people. In particular, it will greatly influence many future shidduchim. This is an area of concern that has not yet been fully realised by the majority of the Kehillah.

Individuals can be broadly placed in one of 3 nationality categories:

1. British (or UK) citizens;
2. European passport holders (27 countries);
3. The rest of the world.

Currently all those citizens in categories 1 and 2 have no problem at all entering, living, staying and indeed working in the UK and even being entitled to all benefits. However, those passport holders from the rest of the world (and who do not hold an EU passport) have no right to stay or live in the UK without obtaining an expensive visa.

There are very few visa routes available to the majority of these foreign citizens. For all foreign young people (non EU citizens) who are getting married and wanting to settle in the UK there is only one option available – “the spouse visa”.

A few years ago, the Conservative government of the day, in their bid to curb immigration to the UK, decided to make it extremely difficult to be eligible to apply for a spouse visa. They imposed very tough conditions of eligibility, including the need for the UK spouse (the sponsor) to be earning at least £18,600 per annum (over a 6 month's period), and for the applicant to be able to speak and understand the English language.

Additionally, this visa can only be applied for from abroad (in country of origin). It is a 5-year process with the need to apply on three occasions (every 2 and a half years). The total cost of this process (over the 5 years) will be well over £10,000. Furthermore, there is no entitlement to benefits at all during those 5 years.

These are quite onerous and tough requirements!

So what have members of the Kehilla been doing over these past few years to enable non-EU spouses to live and settle here in the UK?

Most young couples have managed to obtain a European passport one way or another. In a case of a couple (or indeed in a family) only one member of the family requires EU citizenship to enable his or her whole family to settle in the UK. There is almost no cost involved and that also gave them entitlement to all benefits. This process also led to the possibility of obtaining UK citizenship later, if so desired. Over the last few years most shidduchim with non-EU families have successfully used this route.

However, this will ALL be coming to an end soon – at end of 2020.

The present government have agreed not to make any changes yet, despite Brexit already happening. There is currently a “transitional period”, which will end on 31 December 2020. During this period everything will continue the same, with no changes.

However, come 1 January 2021 the UK immigration doors will be firmly shut. Only citizens of the UK will be allowed to reside automatically in the UK. Everybody else – European or otherwise, MUST obtain a visa to be able to settle and live in the UK (costing in excess of £10,000 and no benefits). In other words, everyone in category 2 will now be considered and treated the same as those in category 3!

No more taking Belgian or Swiss mechtunim. No more USA or Israelis becoming European, as this route will not provide them with any options at all.

They will all need to apply for a “spouse visa” and will have to comply with ALL the onerous visa requirements mentioned above and NOT be able to claim any benefits for the first 5 years.

So, consequently, if you take a son-in-law from any country abroad (EU or not) your daughter will have to move to his country with her husband, or obtain an expensive spouse visa costing over £10,000.

At present there doesn't seem to be a way out to this predicament.

Another very important point to mention is that anybody currently in the UK with an EU passport (or an EU family member) MUST apply for the new EU settlement (or pre-settlement) visa by 31st December 2020 at the very latest. This application, which doesn't cost anything, can only be done online.

Furthermore, any EU citizens (or family member) wishing to come to live and settle in the UK, MUST do so before the end of 2020, otherwise it will cost them over £10,000 for every individual person – and they will not be eligible for benefits either. Ant spouse visa applied for will only be possible assuming they qualify under the eligibility rules.

Your Questions Answered

Q: I would like to understand what causes PTSD and what the symptoms are.

A Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder

Post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) is a mental health condition that is triggered by a distressing event — either experiencing it or witnessing it. The condition was first recognised in war veterans and has been known by a variety of names, such as 'shell shock'. But it is not only diagnosed in soldiers — a wide range of traumatic experiences can cause PTSD. This is because when something traumatic happens to someone's life it shocks them to the core. Their world is no longer a safe place. It becomes somewhere that bad things can and do happen.

Most people who go through traumatic events may have temporary difficulty adjusting and coping, but with time and good self-care, they usually get better. If the symptoms get worse, last for months or even years, and interfere with day-to-day functioning, the person may have PTSD.

Symptoms

Post-traumatic stress disorder symptoms may start within one month of a traumatic event, but sometimes symptoms may not appear until years after the event. These symptoms cause significant problems in social or work situations and in relationships. They can also interfere with your ability to go about your normal daily tasks.

PTSD symptoms are generally grouped into four types: intrusive memories (of the event or flashbacks), avoidance (of thinking or talking about it or avoidance of places or activities that remind the person of the event), negative changes in thinking and mood (such as lack of interest in activities once found enjoyable), and changes in physical and emotional reactions (such as trouble sleeping or concentrating or always being on guard for danger).

Help available

Getting effective treatment after PTSD symptoms develop can be critical to reduce symptoms and improve function. Getting timely help and support may prevent normal stress reactions from getting worse and developing into PTSD. This may mean turning to family and friends who will listen and offer comfort. It may mean seeking out a mental health professional for therapy.

Please note that these answers are general guidelines. Each individual should consult with their Doctor/Moreh Derech.

To struggle with poverty is really tough!

To struggle with illness is tougher yet!!!

What does it feel like to struggle with both??

Please donate generously for the אביונים וחולים

Who are desperate for this urgently needed support.

Donations given by 4:00pm will be given out on Purim day.
