LAB CROWN vs NATURAL

Did you know that Lab grown diamonds are identical to their natural counterparts in every way?

Yes, Diamonds are made up almost entirely of pure carbon and the only difference between them is that they are grown in a lab from a diamond seed instead of pulled from the earth. That's why both lab diamonds and mined diamonds have the exact same physical properties.

Do lab grown diamonds last?

Not only are lab diamonds as durable as natural stones, but they're also chemically, optically, thermally, and visually identical to earth-mined diamonds.

Lab diamonds really do last forever, and there's nothing that will dull the shine or interfere with the brilliance of synthetic diamonds. Interestingly, it has been established that lab diamonds are ten times more durable than mined diamonds.

In fact, even the most seasoned jeweller will not be able to tell the difference by simply inspecting it.

Why would you choose a lab grown diamond over a natural mined diamond?

The reasons are many, but primarily you will be able to afford the luxury of a bigger and better quality stone.

The technology behind lab diamonds has made crucial advances in recent years, allowing companies to grow higher quality diamonds more rapidly and more economically. It has meant growing competition between lab diamond and mined diamond companies.

Today, it costs $300 to $500 per carat to produce a CVD lab-grown diamond, compared with $4,000 per carat in 2008, according to a report commissioned by the Antwerp World Diamond Centre (AWDC).

Young diamond-buyers are drawn to them by price, transparency and for environmental reasons. Unlike their natural counterparts, they suffer fewer blemishes and colour imbalances.

With their superior clarity and their lower price, you can now afford to treat yourself to the stone of your dreams.

A glorious PAST

BUILDING
FOR THE FUTURE

BSS needs to Build the Future. Our Alumni renowned around the world are rightly proud, but the accommodation is sub standard and the Shul Rooms crowded. We now have the opportunity to build and lead the Sem forward for future Generations

A meeting was convened by the Manchester Rosh Hayeshiva ז"ל to discuss the urgent need to open a new Sem in Manchester

Jan 1988

Beis Soroh Schenierer proudly opened its doors headed by Rabbi Marmorstein Shlita and was located in Vine Street shul with 48 Students

Aug 1988

BSS Purchased 460 Bury New Road which it quickly outgrew

Due to further lack of space BSS purchased adjoining property at 472 Bury New Road

The Sem sold its premises & purchased a much larger 474 Bury New Road. Rabbi Angel joined the Sem as a full time member of the Hanholah

Oct 1988

1994

Reb Shea Tager ז"ל of London dedicated a new classroom block that was built linking the two buildings together.

2002

Oct 1989

We were not to be able to acquire extra land next door - 470 Bury New Road, on which were placed temporary portakabins to accommodate the space needed.

OUR

CLASSMATE

NW London unites to help support the family of Nissan Moishe's widow and their 3 young children in a dignified manner. Nissan Moishe himself became the source of strength and devotion for his brothers when their mother died.

We entreat you all, dear friends, let us not forget him nor his warm smile, let us show his family how deeply we share in their pain and empathise with their heartrending situation, by opening our hearts and giving as generously as we can, to help alleviate their desperate situation.
