Important Summer Travel Notice

Feature Phone Roaming

As the summer holiday season approaches and more customers travel, we'd like to make you aware of an emerging issue affecting some mobile phones whilst roaming internationally.

The issue appears to affect certain Android-based feature phones, including models such as Qin, Fig, Fusion and similar devices, and is predominantly on the O2 network. We've seen far fewer cases on Vodafone, EE and Three, although isolated cases have occurred.

Our initial investigations point to certain feature phones being unable to correctly connect to their host country's 4G Calling (VoLTE) for voice services, even though the service itself is available and active. In comparison, some older Nokia 4G feature phones have connected more reliably abroad than other newer Android-based feature phones.

This does not appear to be a fault with the mobile network, rather a combination of the handset, the network and the overseas roaming environment. We've seen an increase in customers who are unable to make or receive calls overseas, despite SMS and mobile data continuing to work normally.

Before You Travel

If you're travelling abroad this summer, particularly if you use a feature phone together with an O2 SIM, we recommend that you:

- Check your handset's roaming compatibility before you travel
- Consider taking a backup handset if your phone is one of the affected models
- Consider carry an alternative UK SIM card as a contingency
- Contact us before you travel if you're unsure whether your handset is suitable.

Our specialist team will continue to investigate this case with network partners and handset manufacturers. As more is uncovered, we'll continue to provide updates and guidance to keep you connected whilst abroad. If you have any questions before travelling, please contact our Mobile Team on 020 8815 4111 or mobile@rcuk.com.

List of affected handsets:

- Qin
- Fig
- Fusion and similar devices

Wishing those travelling a relaxing and enjoyable summer break!

I thought high school would be easy.
More freedom, more friends, more fun.

THE INDUSTRY WINDS DOWN FOR SUMMER. WHY DOES BML KEEP IT GOING?

It's because this isn't just a job.

Most people clock off for summer... but BML are determined to find out we can do... or how we can help.

This summer, every HMO buy-to-let file opened before Thursday 20th August 2026 is £0 – BML is charging £0. Nothing. HMO = FREE

Because we believe in what we do. We believe landlords deserve a service that doesn't take holidays, doesn't cut corners and doesn't charge more just because it can.

We go further because we genuinely think you deserve better. Not because we have to. Because that's the standard we've set for ourselves... and we're not dropping it.

So while others are winding down, we're picking up the phone. Chasing your solicitor. Pushing your lender. Getting your HMO across the line – for nothing.

Call us today from the beach or the mountains... the point is "we are here for YOU"

THINK MORTGAGE. THINK BML.

A friend had a waitressing position open at his restaurant and asked job seekers to fill out an application.

Under "Salary Expected," a woman wrote, "Friday."

Yankel was having difficulty adjusting to his new office job - his boss was accusing him of being unproductive.

One day, Yankel's boss entered his cubicle, and he saw Yankel surfing the web.

"Yankel!" yelled his boss. "Why is it that whenever I come over here, I always catch you goofing off?"

"That's easy," replied Yankel. "It's because you walk so quietly!"

My boss has not paid my wages for 40 days.

I promised him I would publicize it, and I saw a yeshuah.

Faced with hard times, the boss offered a bonus of one thousand dollars to any employee who could come up with a way of saving money.

The bonus went to a young woman in accounting who suggested limiting future bonuses to ten dollars.

Brought to you by Uncle Benji, author of Laughter is the Best Medicine: Kosher and Jewish Jokes for the Whole Family, volumes one, two, and a newly released volume three, and Jewish Joke Book for Kids, volumes one and two, available on Amazon; search "Uncle Benji" on Amazon.
